Meal plans consist of three components: meals, food points and guest meals

~ Meals ~

Your meal plan comes with a specific number of meals per week or semester depending on the plan. These meals can be used for yourself only. Using a meal admits you to one of our all-you-care-to-eat resident dining halls. Meals can be used in certain retail locations as a meal plan express (MPE) option. See more on MPE below.

~ Food Points ~

Each meal plan includes a food points account. Your points account is basically a debit account that you may spend in any Dining Services location and in vending machines on campus. Food points are used for purchases in retail locations and permitted to supplement a MPE purchase over the allotted value.

~ Guest Meals ~

Guest meals are a separate account of meals which, unlike regular meals, may be used for visiting friends, guests or yourself. Use your guest meals for yourself in cases where you run out of your regular meals. Guest meals may also be used as MPEs in most retail locations and are subject to MPE restrictions.

MPE

MPE (Meal Plan Express) is a convenient way for you to use your meal plan in one of our retail locations. When you use your Wildcard, a meal is deducted from your weekly or semester balance. You are given a specific amount to spend on your purchase which is the MPE value. MPE acceptance and restrictions vary by location. Visit our website for more details.

MPE Values 2011/2012

The Exchange, Corner Grill, Italian Kitchen, Belle Air Terrace, Law School Cafe

Breakfast $5.00

Lunch/Brunch $7.00

Meal Periods

Some meal plans have limits to the number of meals or MPEs that can be used in a "Meal Period". Each day consists of four meal periods: breakfast, brunch/lunch, dinner and late night. Over the course of a week there are 28 meal periods to use your meals. See the chart for specific meal period times.
