

Application for Villanova University Student Hardship Fund

The Villanova University Student Hardship Fund provides emergency support to address the needs of students who are facing unexpected financial stresses. Open to all degree-seeking undergraduate, graduate and law students at Villanova, this fund is meant to assist with costs such as food, housing, technology, transportation incurred as a result of an emergency such as a natural disaster, illness, loss of personal items due to fire or flood, or other personal or family emergencies.

A single application process has been put in place for these funds and it is not required that you have previously applied for financial assistance. However, if you have applied for financial assistance and are eligible to receive other federal or institutional assistance, the respective Office of Financial Assistance may consider other resources to assist you.

In the spirit of serving as many of Villanova University students with the greatest need, awards will generally be capped at $300 per student. Higher amounts may be requested and awarded to those who, in the University's discretion, demonstrated circumstances of extreme hardship. Support for this program is provided by contributions from awards and contributions from donors and is subject to availability of funds.

The attached application and supporting documentation, where applicable, should be completed and returned by email to the Office of Financial Assistance finaid@villanova.edu (undergraduate and graduate) or the Charles Widger School of Law Office of Financial Aid finaid@law.villanova.edu (law students).
