As you can see, the BLC still gives you plenty of flexibility in course selection to take electives that interest you.

In addition, aside from the five courses in red—which must be taken in the indicated semester—the other BLC-required courses can be taken in whatever semester you choose.

If you follow the above schedule, you will meet all Law School graduation and Business Law Concentration requirements. Law School graduation requirements can be found here:

<https://libguides.law.villanova.edu/studenthandbook/graduationrequirements>.

You will also receive two credits for completion of the 1L and 2L modules, as well as one credit for serving as a Financial Literacy Fellow in your 3L year. These additional credits will bring you to the 90 credits you need for graduation.

This is a sample schedule, and you should feel free to vary your schedule to best suit your needs. The co-directors of the BLC will work with you as you plan your course schedule.
